

Illustrator / Graphic Facilitator

Hours per week

2- 8 hours per month (flexible)

Location

Include.org is a vibrant new charity based in Redhill, Surrey. Aside from occasional attendance at meetings, which can be discussed, this role could involve working from home.

Description

We are looking for proactive, imaginative and committed people to join our fun-loving team in making a real difference to the lives of people with communication challenges.

The Include Choir is made up of people with and without learning or communication disabilities – we aim to reduce social isolation and improve communication for all.

This role is perfect for anyone skilled in illustration, graphic design or drawing who is interested in how pictures can be used to help people understand and communicate

You will assist the inclusive communication team by creating illustrations to support understanding. Many of these will be featured on the forthcoming website and blog. You will attend quarterly meetings and provide simple drawings to help people's understanding. Formal qualifications are not important; a 'can-do' attitude is.

This opportunity will help develop:

- Problem solving/Creativity
- Inclusive communication skills
- Disability Rights awareness
- A platform to share your work

Communication Disability Awareness training will be provided as part of the induction. Regular supervision and out of pocket expenses will also be provided.

About you

What do you need for this role?

Essential: An inclusive attitude, ability to prioritise and multitask, ability to work to a deadline, willingness to learn, sense of humour, ability to plan and work independently, good line drawing skills

Desirable: Experience in working with people with learning or communication disabilities, experience of accessible information and visual supports, access to graphic design packages
