

What did we talk about last week?

Last week, we talked about Phishing attacks. A Phishing attack is when someone sends fake emails that look real to trick you to give personal information.

Personal information is any detail that can identify you, like your name, address, phone number, passwords, or bank details.

Phishing attacks can also be fake text messages or fake phone calls. These text messages or phone calls look real to trick people to share their information.

It is very important to never give your bank account details or passwords to anyone online or over the phone.

When you are not sure about a text or phone call, ask someone you trust for help.

You can also look up the company's real phone number online and call them to check.

See you at Champions, today!