What did we talk about last week?

Last week, we talked more about Phishing attacks. A Phishing attack is when someone sends fake emails that look real to trick you to give personal information.

We looked at some Big Give emails - to check we knew how to spot they were really from include.org. We remembered to look at the email address it came from.

There will be a lot of Big Give emails this week because every donation will be doubled via this link Getting to the heart of communication needs – Big Give. This link is safe and the emails from include.org are safe to share. Please do check them and share them to help us.

Phishing attacks can also be fake text messages or fake phone calls. These text messages or phone calls look real to trick people to share their information.

It is very important to never give your bank account details or passwords to anyone online or over the phone.

When you are not sure about a text or phone call, ask someone you trust for help.

See you at Champions with Claudia today!
