

Intensive Interaction – working with Us in a Bus

What is happening?

We are working with Us in a Bus. They will:

Train our staff and volunteers
Come to some choir sessions
Show us how to use Intensive Interaction

What is Intensive Interaction?

It is a way to communicate. It is helpful for people who:

Use little or no speech
Communicate in different ways

Intensive Interaction is about:

Being together
Taking turns
Copying sounds, movements, or actions
Enjoying the music together

There is no right or wrong way to join in.

Intensive Interaction helps us to Include everyone, build connection and support communication in different ways

What will happen in sessions?

At some choir sessions, Us in a Bus staff will join us. They will show how to use Intensive Interaction.

Staff and support workers can watch, learn and join in.

You can: Join in, try it yourself, ask questions!

Why are we doing this?

- To make our choirs more inclusive
- To support people with higher needs
- To help everyone communicate in their own way
- To help support workers and families develop their skills

Looking ahead

This is the start of a new partnership. We hope to:

- Keep working together
- Share skills and ideas
- Support more people
