What did we talk about last week?

Last week, we talked about safe online communication.

We said that online communication happens when people send a message, an email or write something on social media.

Online communication also happens through video calls or online meeting and online groups.

To communicate safely online, people should be careful to not share links for online meetings with other people.

We also said that it is important for people to not share personal information with people they just met online.

Tonight, we will help Include to make an Easy Read about safe communication online!

See you all later!
