What did we talk about last week?

Last week, we talked about neurodiversity. We said neurodiversity means having a different brain.

People with neurodivergent brains can be people with ADHD, dyslexia, autism or other “brain” differences.

We also said that the Talking Mats wants to make a blog for their website about the Champions group.

In the last session, we helped Include to make a video for the Talking Mats blog.

We said Include will use some parts of the session recording for the Talking Mats blog during Learning Disability week!

Tonight, we will help Include to make an Easy Read about safe communication online!

See you all later!
